The Divex Professional 200: A classic diver's watch design from Divex. This stainless steel watch has become a reliable favourite with professional divers. Rated to 200 meters, it is extremely robust with a directional rotating bezel affixed to a protected recessed crown. Looking into the glass face, the black facia with silver Divex logo provides high contrast against the luminous hands for enhanced visibility in poor light conditions. The Divex 200 also has a date display. It comes as standard with a strong rubber strap which is long enough to secure around wetsuits and drysuits.

Professional Diver's Watches

The Divex Submariner 200: This elegant design has proven to be popular with diver's across the board due to the 'dress watch' design coupled with the same robust quality that features throughout Divex's range. The all stainless steel design, including one-piece stainless steel bracelet strap is equally appropriate when either diving at depth or wearing at functions. The Submariner 200 is rated to 200 meters and in common with other Divex professional watches features a directional bezel and recessed crown providing greater protection to the facia. A day and date display is incorporated into the black watch face with Silver Divex Logo. Contrasting luminous hands permit enhanced visibility in poor light conditions.
